

The Transfiguration:
Mark 9:1-8; Matthew 17:1-13; Luke 9:28-36

Tour guides in Palestine today point to Mount Tabor, near Nazareth in Galilee, as “The Mount of the Transfiguration.” This tradition is of long standing and may be accurate, but the events that preceded the transfiguration took place in the vicinity of Caesarea Philippi, some 25 miles north of the Sea of Galilee at the base of Mount Hermon. So the transfiguration may have occurred instead on one of the higher foothills of Mount Hermon. Then again, it was six to eight days later, and the group may have traveled south. No one can identify the site for sure.
